Definitions

Tuition Fees: Fees relating to the provision of training and assessment services

Pre-paid Fees: Tuition fees paid in advance before the commencement of the course or study period

Course: A program of study leading to a qualification or statement of attainment

Provider Default: Occurs when the RTO fails to deliver the course as agreed

Student Default: Occurs when a student withdraws, cancels enrolment, or otherwise fails to meet course requirements

Policy

Refunds are assessed in a fair, transparent and consistent manner, taking into account the circumstances of the application, the amount of training and assessment delivered, and any reasonable costs incurred by the RTO.

Students may apply for a refund or reduction of fees by submitting a written request supported by relevant evidence.

All applications are considered in accordance with this policy and the student's written agreement.

Refunds are not automatically granted where a student fails to achieve competency or completes all assessment attempts, as fees relate to the provision of training and assessment services rather than outcomes. Where the RTO is unable to deliver the course or any portion of the course as agreed, students will be entitled to a refund of any unused tuition fees or offered an alternative arrangement in line with regulatory requirements.

This policy does not remove or limit the student's rights under applicable consumer protection legislation

Provider default may occur in the following circumstances:

- Where the Project Controls Institute, Australia or any third-party delivering training and assessment on its behalf ceases to operate
- Where the Project Controls Institute, Australia is unable to deliver the course in which the student is enrolled, and the student agreement is terminated
- Where the Project Controls Institute, Australia proposes a change to the terms of the student agreement (including delivery mode or conditions of enrolment), and a revised agreement cannot be reached with the student

In any of the above circumstances, the Project Controls Institute, Australia will initiate a refund assessment for all affected students. Students are not required to submit an individual refund application in these instances.

Any applicable refund will be paid to the original fee payer within 28 days of the default occurring
